Archives in the Classroom

- In small groups, let's explore two more archives and discuss how to use them in your individual classroom
- National Archives
 - <https://www.archives.gov/space>
- NASA | History - Finding Aids
 - https://history.nasa.gov/finding_aids.html

Resources & Reflections

- Wakelet with Websites Wakelet Resources
- NASA Padlet for reflections NASA Padlet
- National Archives Padlet for reflections National Archives Padlet

Archives in the Classroom

- What did you find?
- How can archival materials be used in a science classroom?
- How do we adapt for MLL learners or students with special needs?
- Other considerations!
